

NOWELL'S CHANCES ARE MUCH IMPROVED

SOME ARDENT LA FOLLETTE
MEN FAVOR HIS ELECTION.

A. R. Hall Has Promised to Work for the Milwaukee Men for Chief Assembly Clerk—Status of the Fight to Control the Offices When the Legislature Convenes.

Milwaukee, Jan. 4.—While some of the ardent La Follette men are trying to form a combine against W. H. Nowell of this city and elect some one more friendly to the administration as chief clerk of the assembly it looks as though the scheme would not carry. The letters sent out from Madison suggesting some other candidate did not meet with the response expected. In fact some of the members who are most friendly to La Follette and the measures which the administration will urge on the legislature have replied that they are friendly to Mr. Nowell and believe that his election would be the best thing for the house.

Hall Enters a Protest.
A. R. Hall the veteran member from Dunn county is said to have called the authors of the new plan down very hard for attempting to inject factional politics into the organization of the house. This, Mr. Hall said, would be one of the worst things that could happen and he deplored any such attempts. Personally he favored Mr. Nowell.

Another prominent La Follette man wrote that he should use all of his influence for the election of Mr. Nowell, as he believed that his long service as chief clerk made him the best man for the place. Taken altogether the promoters of the plan to control the patronage of the lower house seem to have butted their heads against a wall.

Nowell Not Committed.

Mr. Nowell said today that so far as he was concerned he had not taken any sides nor would he do so in the case of his election as chief clerk, of which he had no doubt. Furthermore he would not allow any employee of his to do any work for or against any measure before the legislature on pain of dismissal. He held that the employees of the house were there to do their work, and not to act as a lobby for and against measures which may come before the legislature. Mr. Nowell said he had communicated his position to the La Follette men, and it was his refusal to permit them to control the patronage that led to the present attempt to select some one who would be more pliable.

FAST MAIL CRASHES INTO A VEHICLE

Accident at Kenosha Which Caused
Death of Man and Horse, and Injured a Woman.

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 4.—The most serious railway accident that has occurred here in many years occurred at the Truesdell crossing of the Milwaukee road when the fast mail from Milwaukee crashed into a vehicle containing Mr. and Mrs. Mat Gurley of this city. The accident resulted in the instant death of the man and horse and the woman is so seriously injured that it is feared that she cannot survive the day.

BISHOP NINDE FOUND DEAD.

Has Been a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church Since 1884.

Detroit, Jan. 4.—Bishop W. X. Ninde, aged 68 years, of the Methodist Episcopal church, was found dead in his bed at his home here today. It is thought the cause of death was heart trouble. He attended a funeral Wednesday and caught a cold. Deceased had been a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church since 1884, and was known throughout the United States. Prior to his election as a bishop he was pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church here, and was at one time a missionary in India.

He leaves a wife, three sons, and one daughter. One son, Edward, is a Methodist minister at Ann Arbor. His daughter Mary was formerly a missionary worker in India. She is now in the south with her brother Fred, who is ill. The other son, George, is also ill at his home here.

REPORT AGUINALDO DEAD.

Philippine Children Say He Died Six Weeks Ago.

New York, Jan. 4.—Benjamin Ido Wheeler, president of the University of California, who is now staying at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, has received information from secret sources in the Philippines to the effect that Aguinaldo is dead, and that his death occurred no less than six weeks ago. The news has been kept secret by Aguinaldo's followers, it is said, for the purpose of prolonging the rebellion. President Wheeler obtained this news, he says, through several Philippine children who have been placed in his care by their parents. Two are the sons of Buenacama, formerly an active leader of the rebellion against the Spanish.

REPORT WALTERSEE KILLED.

Assumed Name That Commanded Allied Forces in East.

Paris, Jan. 4.—Lo Journal reports, under reserve, the death of Count von Waltersee, the rumor being that he was killed by an officer of the allied troops, the circumstances not being related. It is said that the rumor is current in Berlin, where it is not confirmed. Count von Waltersee was born in 1832. He entered the German army in 1850 and served with distinction through the war with Austria in 1866 and the Franco-Prussian war in 1870. Later he succeeded Field Marshal Count von Moltke as chief of the general staff. It is generally understood that the appointment of the count as commander in chief of the allied forces in China was made after a conference in Berlin between Count von Bismarck, minister of foreign affairs, and the English and Russian ambassadors.

Called "Peace in Sight" New Year's.
Berlin, Jan. 4.—Count von Waltersee called the countess New Year's day: "Peace is in sight at last. Hurray!"

The final peace negotiations will not begin, it is understood in official circles here, until not only the note of the powers, but also the Chinese acceptance of the preliminaries shall have become a formal international agreement on the part of the powers.

GREAT INCREASE IN THE WORLD'S MONEY

Mint Director Roberts Reports a Growth of More Than One Hundred Per Cent.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—An increase of more than 100 per cent in the money of the world within less than a generation will be one of the most interesting exhibits of the annual report of the director of the mint, which is now going through the press.

Nearly the whole of this increase is in metallic money, and much the larger proportion is in gold. The total stock reported in 1873 was about $4,600,000,000, of which more than half was in paper money not fully covered by metallic reserves.

The situation at the beginning of 1890 showed a total monetary stock of about $11,800,000,000, or which only little more than one-fourth was in uncovered paper money.

Director Roberts finds that, while the total money supply of the world has increased about $7,000,000,000, the increase in gold money since 1873 has been about $3,600,000,000, in silver about $2,750,000,000, and in uncovered paper about $650,000,000.

BIG FLOW COMBINATION. One to Be Launched Next Week With $655,000,000 Capital.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The combination of flow companies will be launched next week with a capital stock of $655,000,000. Charles R. Flint, president of the United States Rubber company, is the reputed financial power behind the combination, but it is said that the presidency will go to a western man with practical experience in the manufacture of plows. Thirty-one firms have agreed to enter the new concern which will probably be called the American Plow company.

Prize Fights in Nevada.

Carson, Nev., Jan. 4.—Dan Stuart, the prize fight promoter, has arrived here. He made the statement that he was here in the interest of a prize fight to take place in the latter part of May. He states that Jeffries in all probability would be here. When asked if Fitzsimmons would go against the champion he made no denial, but stated that he had plenty of material. He mentioned Mc Govern as one of his stars. Stuart has secured land for an arena, which gives the impression that he means business.

ACTRESS IS FOUND DEAD.

Ether Taken for Headache the Cause of Violet Creagan's Death.

Chillicothe, Mo., Jan. 4.—Jesse E. Clark, an actress, whose stage name was Violet Creagan, was found dead in her room at a hotel here today. Death resulted from the use of ether, believed to have been taken to relieve headache. She has relatives in Baraboo and Laval, Wis., who however, have not been located. The woman's 5 year old child was unable to give any names.

Trouble in Libra.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—Libra Africa advises report President W. D. Coleman has been deposed, Secretary of State Gibson assuming control till the national elections between the whigs and republicans.

Lord Roberts at Work.

London, Jan. 4.—Lord Roberts walked from the hotel to the war office this morning and began his duties as commander-in-chief of the army. The first letter he read was an appeal for justice from General Coleville.

Fire at Galveston.

Galveston, Jan. 4.—A fire at midnight destroyed the plant of the American Biscuit company and Jackson Davis company's elevator. Loss $69,000; both insured.

BANDITS TERRORIZE SMALL OHIO TOWN

USE DYNAMITE IN WRECKING A SAFE AND A STORE.

Fire Volleys at Owner—An Exciting
Night at the Village of Cavette, Six
Miles North of Van Wert, Ohio—
Desperate Running Fight with the Robbers.

Lima, O., Jan. 4.—A gang of heavily armed and desperate robbers took possession of the little village of Cavette, six miles north of Van Wert, on the Cincinnati Northern railroad, this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock. They were prepared for business, and, after breaking into the general store of William Hoagland, a part of the gang surrounded his home, adjoining the store, and commenced firing through the windows. While half a dozen of the gang were amusing themselves smashing the windows in Mr. Hoagland's residence, the other three were at work on the big safe in his store. They drilled the lock, put in a charge of nitroglycerin and touched it off. In the meantime Mr. Hoagland managed to reach one of the windows unharmed, and called to the bandits, asking what was wanted. They replied with another volley, and then told him they wanted his money. He told them it was in the safe in his store, and that he would go there and get it for them if they would quit shooting. They answered with another volley, and told him that he need not pay any attention to them, as their companions were at work on the safe and would have it open in a few seconds. Mr. Hoagland secured his shotgun and opened fire on the bandits, but they were protected behind trees and he could not hit them.

Safe Was Blown to Pieces.

While he was firing at them the robbers in the store finished their work. The safe was blown to pieces and much of the money it contained was destroyed, so heavy was the charge. The entire town was shaken by the force of the explosion, and the residence of Mr. Hoagland was badly damaged. The store was partially wrecked. The entire town was aroused. People ran into the street in their night clothes, although the mercury was below zero. The greatest excitement prevailed. Men armed themselves with whatever kind of firearms they could find about their homes and started after the robbers. Some of the posse were only partially dressed, and many had their feet and hands frozen.

Had Arranged Their Escape.

The thieves had previously arranged for their escape. They had stolen several horses and buggies from neighboring farm barns, and had them hitched at convenient places. They did not all go in the same direction, but scattered after getting outside the town, all the time keeping up a fire in the members of the posse who were trying to head them off. Over a hundred shots were exchanged, but so far as is known no one was wounded. The night was dark, and the only means of telling where a shot came from or where a human target might be was by the flash of a revolver or a Winchester, with which the robbers were armed. Although the posse followed them for several miles, the robbers escaped.

All that has been heard from them is that they were seen together early this morning driving in the direction of this city, where a bad gang of thieves and safeblowers is supposed to be secreted. This gang is accused of blowing up the Jackson Center bank vault a couple of weeks ago, and also of robbing several safes at Middle Point and in this city. The robbers secured about $300.

Find Rigs Abandoned.

The abandoned rigs of the Cavette bandits were found near Cloverdale, a small town about twelve miles north-west of Cavette. Four supposed robbers went west over the Findlay, Fort Wayne & Western road, walking.

AN NOW PROVE HER CLAIM.

Issuing of Marriage Certificate Likely to End a Will Contest.

Wellesboro, Pa., Jan. 4.—The discovery of a marriage certificate in a corner of an old valise is likely to bring to an end the contest over the will of the late Chauncey C. Ackley, who died three years ago, leaving an estate valued at $40,000. A widow and her son were Ackley's only known survivors. A few days after his death, however, Jennie Hamlin, a school teacher of Clymer township, presented herself and claimed to have been married to Ackley at Elmira, N. Y., in 1893. She was unable to prove her claim and her suit against the estate was decided against her. At a sewing society held at the Hamlin home a valise long out of use was brought into requisition as a receptacle for carpet bags. The long missing marriage certificate was discovered by one of the party. It proclaims the marriage of Chauncey C. Ackley and Miss Jennie Hamlin by a justice of the peace on Feb. 14, 1893. The case is to have another hearing.

THINKS THAT MARS HAS INHABITANTS

NIKOLA TESLA HAS A PLAN TO COMMUNICATE WITH THEM.

He is Trying to Establish an Electrical Code—He Believes That the Planet is Inhabited and That Its People
Are Signalling to the Earth—
Interesting Ideas of the Professor.

New York, Jan. 4.—Nikola Tesla's remarkable discovery, which he believes was the signals of the people of Mars or Venus to the earth, has drawn to the electrical wizard once more the attention of the scientists all over the world. Today he discussed the matter again, and went more into details than when he first gave the result of his experiments. He told of the disturbances his instruments recorded while at work on the top of a Colorado mountain peak, and added:

Mars Is Inhabited.

"I share the belief of the other scientific men that the planet Mars is inhabited; that the inhabitants are intelligent and that they are trying to communicate with the inhabitants of the other planets including our earth."

Mr. Tesla was asked about the machine he thinks might be constructed to carry the signals from the earth to the planets, but as to the practical details of establishing a system of interplanetary communication he is not yet prepared to talk.

His suggestion, however, of an interchange of mathematical forms would indicate at once a practical basis of operations by means of initiating electrical disturbances at the three angles of a vast triangle described over an immense area of the earth's surface.

Could Establish a Code.

Observers at these points with means at command for the transmission of powerful electric energy could thus indicate to the inhabitants of Mars in unmistakable manner the species of form language in which it was desired to communicate. Thus, little by little an intelligent code could be established containing possibilities for the acquisition of exact data concerning other worlds far beyond the wildest dreams or necromancers.

Mr. Tesla naturally regards his latest discovery as far and away the most important that he has ever made. He is positive that the disturbance which agitated his machine is neither of solar nor terrestrial origin, but proceeded from one of the planets. He says that in his Colorado laboratory the instrument that he was using to observe the electrical condition of the earth was affected in an unaccountable manner, not once, but many times, the number of impulses varying. Mr. Tesla now firmly believes that with improved apparatus it is not only probable but entirely possible, that we shall be able to communicate with the inhabitants of the other planets.

MATT QUAY SURE OF THE SENATORSHIP

Will Seek to Renew His Health in Florida Until the Legislature is Ready to Vote.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 4.—Ex-Senator Quay today said the fight for his old position had practically been decided in his favor and that he would be elected by the votes of the republicans alone. He further declared that he desired the honor only because his success would be a triumph over money lavishly used to defeat him.

Mr. Quay is gradually improving in health, but in order to recuperate more rapidly he has decided to start for his Florida home tomorrow.

The prevailing impression here harmonizes with the opinion of Mr. Quay that his re-election is assured. Some of the leading anti-Quay members, however, say that after the first vote his strength in the legislature will gradually lessen and his defeat be come certain.

DIETRICH NOW RULES.

Incumbent Governor of Nebraska with Splendid Ceremonies.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 4.—After an interval of six years of fusion control in all state matters the republican party in Nebraska again took possession of every state office. The men elected last November were installed with great ceremony and jollification. For many minutes the cheers and tigers for Dietrich and Poynter, coming from the political opponents of each, were uncontrollable, but quiet was finally restored and the messages were then delivered, Gov. Poynter speaking first. In his farewell address he urged especially the need of a constitutional convention and some method of railway regulation, now lacking in this state.

Earthquake in Nevada.

Nevada, Mo., Jan. 4.—An earthquake shock was felt at eight thirty last night. In Eldorado Springs window glass was broken.

NO GREAT RAILWAY COMBINE.

President Jeffrey Denies the Rumor of Gigantic Consolidation.

Denver, Col., Jan. 4.—President E. T. Jeffrey of the Denver & Rio Grande, who is chairman of the Executive Officers' association meeting four times each year in New York, says there is not a particle of truth in the reported gigantic railway combine which is to control all the great lines. In an interview he said: "Nobody in his sane mind ever thought of attempting to combine all the railways into a great organization to control the commerce of the country. The meetings in New York have no such purpose and if railway managers can be brought to a point where they will simply obey the interstate commerce law the main object of the meetings in New York will be accomplished."

"What would become of the weak lines if the law were obeyed?" he was asked.

"They would go out of existence," was the reply. "That is the natural law and I see no reason why the weak railway lines should be forever upheld by those that are able to take care of themselves. Let the weak lines be absorbed by their more vigorous competitors or let them go out of existence altogether. In either event the public is the gainer and the business interest is better off."

CHINA IS READY TO SIGN AGREEMENT

Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching
Waiting to Accept—Demands of Powers Are in Shape.

Peking, Jan. 4.—At a meeting of the foreign ministers today it was announced that Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching were prepared to sign an agreement as soon as it was ready for signature.

Li Hung Chang desires to conduct the peace negotiations to a conclusion, and the physicians attending him think that he might be taken to the Spanish legation, where the conferences have been held if the weather is favorable.

The ministers at their meeting today began their work of transposing the demands of the powers into a formal agreement for China to sign before any questions are asked or answered.

FOES OF CIGARETTE GATHER IN CHICAGO

Leagues Begin Reform Work of the
New Year—Governor Bliss of Michigan Against the Weed.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Foes of the cigarette gathered at Willard hall this afternoon to begin in a fitting manner the reform work designated for the new year. The meeting is designated as a twentieth century cigarette rally, and is largely attended.

More than twenty anti-cigarette leagues of Chicago and vicinity are represented at the gathering, and the youthful officers of the organizations will tell of the results accomplished during the past year. Plans will be outlined for the coming year, and the members will be asked to join in a movement to secure 100,000 new members during the next twelve months.

Lucy Page Gaston presided and the music for the occasion was furnished by an anti-cigarette chorus and the Stock Yards Boys' Band. Addresses were made by John C. Patten of Valparaiso, Ind.; Harvey True, known as the newsboys' friend, and others.

Disapproves of the Cigarette.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 4.—In his inaugural message to the legislature yesterday afternoon Governor Bliss emphatically placed the seal of his disapproval upon the cigarette habit and recommended the enactment of a law to suppress the manufacture and use of the offensive articles. Later he expressed himself at length in telling why he deemed radical legislation necessary.

HEAVY STORM IN CALIFORNIA.

Wire Communication Along the Coast
Is Greatly Impeded.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 4.—A wind and rain storm of considerable severity and wide extent over the North Pacific coast. Wire communication is badly interrupted. The velocity of the wind in this city has reached thirty-eight miles, coming from the south-east.

A report reached here from Reno, Nev., that a train on the Nevada, California and Oregon railway, north of Reno, had been blown from the tracks and several passengers injured.

Romantic Wedding in Indiana.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 4.—A story of a romantic marriage comes from New Paris, six miles east of here. William Bohn and Ida Lawder were remarried on the seventeenth anniversary of their first marriage after being separated for years.

NINDE'S DEATH IS A LOSS TO METHODISM

HAS BEEN A LEADING BISHOP IN
THE CHURCH SINCE 1884.

His Disease Was Due to a Collapse of the Heart—Came of a Family Noted for Producing Church Workers—
Sketch of His Busy Life and Useful Services.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 4.—The death of Bishop William X. Ninde is received with sorrow in every state in the Union. The deceased had been a bishop of the Methodist church since 1884 and was known throughout the whole country. Prior to his election as bishop he was pastor of the Central Methodist church here and was at one time a missionary in India.

He leaves a wife, three sons and one daughter. One son, Edward, is a Methodist minister at Ann Arbor. His daughter Mary was formally a missionary worker in India. She is now in the south with her brother Fred, who is ill. The other son, George is also ill at his home here.

Yesterday the presiding elders of Michigan held a conference and decided to sell the Episcopal residence here, now occupied by Bishop Ninde's family, because the churches of Michigan outside of Detroit and other large cities failed to contribute sufficient funds to maintain it.

James Ninde, Bishop Ninde's grandfather, was a circuit riding preacher as long ago as 1773. Grandfather emigrated to Maryland early in the century. He had three sons two of whom became clergymen. The eldest, William Ward Ninde, was the father of the decedent.

The bishops' opinions were sought on many occasions. Once he was asked whether or not, in his opinion, more people attended church now than a decade ago. He said: "It is true that the majority of church-goers are women. This, however, does not show that men are less deeply interested in morality. Women even more spiritual than men, and ever more quickly aroused to the religious side of life naturally take the head in the church affairs. Men are too busy; their lives are more expressed with care; to an extent they do not care to go to church."

SAY MONEY IS BEING USED.

Anti-Quayites Make Charge in Connection with Senatorship.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 4.—The opponents of Mr. Quay in his contest for a seat in the United States senate do not hesitate to say that money has already been brought into use to pull that gentleman through. No charge of bribery is made, however, but the anti-Quayites are loud in proclaiming that money has been used in a way that has had the same effect. They place the amount at $50,000 and allege that it was used to bring about the defection in the opposition. No ballot was taken in the legislature yesterday in accordance with a scheme to have a tally ballot until a result is reached. The Quay people are said to have abandoned this idea because they feel certain that they can elect their candidate without resorting to means that might be questioned. Their confidence is due to the vote received by Quay in the joint caucus and the assurances of support given by absent members, as well as from other Republicans, that they will no longer oppose the choice of the majority of the people. Col. Quay is satisfied that his election will be accomplished without the aid of any Democrats.

DUKE HENRY GOES HOME VERY MAD

Dutch Parliament Angers the German
Prince, Who is to Marry
Queen Wilhelmina.

The Hague, Jan. 4.—The postponement of the marriage of Queen Wilhelmina to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and the sudden departure of the duke for his ancestral home in Germany are due to the attitude of the Dutch parliament toward the betrothed of the "Willful Mina."

Queen Wilhelmina wishes that the duke shall be made prince consort and that an $80,000 grant shall be bestowed on him have been overruled in parliament. As the result the duke feels very much aggrieved and, it is believed, both on the advice of the queen, who loves him dearly and of his brother, Grand Duke Frederick, the date of the wedding has been postponed until September. Should the parliament prove obdurate a further postponement may follow until popular clamor will change the minds of the legislators.

Information on Waterways.

Lyman Cooley, the original engineer of the Chicago drainage ditch, lectured at Ann Arbor recently, and said that boats to compete with railroads nowadays must have a carrying capacity of not less than 2,000 tons each. The roads are preparing for heavier hauls, and so must the boats if ship canal plans are to carry and succeed.

CLINTON.

Clinton, Jan. 4—According to the custom that has been maintained for several years, of serving a New Year's supper, and having a general reunion of the members of the Congregational church and society, the gathering Monday evening rather exceeded anything of the kind held for several years. At half past six the church and parlors were filled to overflowing. Mirth and good fellowship pervaded the atmosphere.

An elegant supper was served, which was enjoyed by all, after which the meeting took a formal form for a time. Rev. Wm. Moore occupying the chair, when reports from the treasurer, Dr. Collier, and clerk of the church, Mr. L. L. Olds, were given. The company were reminded by Mr. Moore that during the forty-three years since the organization of the church, it had never had but two clerks, Mr. B. B. Olds being the first one, at whose death a few years ago, his son, Mr. Leavitt Olds, was appointed to fill his place. He has also been superintendent of Sunday school for several years, and as a slight token of appreciation for the time and untiring interest taken in church work he was presented with an elegant office chair, for which he thanked the society most heartily.

Mr. J. C. Howarth and little Miss Flora Collier each favored the audience with a solo. Mrs. Budlong and Miss Moore played an organ duet.

Prof. R. E. Loveland read a very interesting paper, reviewing briefly the progress made in the last century along educational lines, especially as it had advanced women. A number remained and attended the union watch meeting at eleven o'clock at which Rev. T. J. Parsons preached the sermon, Rev. Dr. McChesney of

WITH "A HOLE IN THE GROUND" COM ANY.

That accidents are largely responsible for many of the ludicrous situations that one sees portrayed in the comedies of the present day, is generally conceded.

This is particularly true of the Hoyt skits. In that masterpiece of the prince of farce writers "A Hole in the Ground," which comes to the Myers Grand Monday evening, Jan. 7, the curtain situation in the second act is due wholly to a situation of this nature.

The scene represents a railway station in one of the small towns in Vermont. The bell has sounded announcing the departure of the train. Just as the passengers are about to leave the train they are astonished to see coming from the cellar of the station the "Stranger" dressed in his red undershirt, and carrying the rest of his upper clothing in his hand.

The reason the situation is introduced is due to a frightened plumber.

When Hoyt was rehearsing for the first time "A Hole in the Ground" he was sitting in front of one of his former fellow workers on a Boston newspaper. "How do you wind up this scene Charlie," asked the journalist of the playwright. "With the regulation chorus, finale, but it don't strike me as being strong enough. What I want is a good strong comedy climax to bring the curtain down," answered Hoyt.

At that moment the chorus assembled, and as they began dancing the number there emerged through a trap door in the center of the stage a grimy plumber, arrayed in the conventional plumber make up, excepting that he wore a red shirt instead of a jumper.

The women screamed and ran about and the men, including Hoyt and his friend, were nearly convulsed with the humor of the situation. The rehearsal was called off and the plumber volunteered the following explanation:

He had gone below to change his shirt. Hearing the noise made by the dancing chorus he concluded that the theatre was afire, under which conditions most men are apt not to waste much time on the matter of propriety in dress. Hoyt saw the point, and a few hours work with his facile pen marked a change in the finale of the second act that now marks the "situation de resistance" in "A Hole in the Ground."

The advance sale of seats for Hoyt's "A Hole in the Ground," opened this morning at 9 o'clock. The indications point to a crowded house and it will be wise for all who intend to see the great farce comedy to be on hand early and secure their seats.

The Gypsy quartet is a special feature of William Bonelli's interesting play, "The American Gentleman," and the singing with the beautiful costumes in the second act makes a picture never to be forgotten. At the Myers Grand Wednesday evening, Jan. 9.

buggy broke down and they were elected to walk two miles.

Oliver Holland is starting to move.

An Odd Wood Carving.

In an open cabinet in the parlor of the Grand hotel is an odd piece of wood carving that is well worth close examination. It is about four inches high by three wide and represents a human skull. The wood is fine grained and of a pale yellow tint, much like ivory.

Holes have been made in the occipital and parietal regions, which with the eye sockets make five apertures and through these a snake as thick as a man's little finger has twisted, having a loop at the back of the head which serves as a handle. The snake is done in darker wood than the rest and is marked with criss-cross lines which give the scaly effect.

The top of the skull has been sawed off and fitted at the top with a diminutive frog by which it may be lifted. The inside is hollowed out and smoothed nicely, the whole having a vague resemblance to a beer stein.

To those with a strong dislike for snakes it is rather a gruesome object, but the ingenuity displayed and the pessimism suggested to the normal mind, make it interesting if not beautiful.

Woman's Progress

The girl of 1801. What a vision that calls up before us! A shrinking, timid creature with narrow shoulders and lily complexion, a girl who was sharply reproved if she held decided opinions of her own, a woman who was expected to shine as an ornament in her husband's drawing room, but when weighty matters were brought up for discussion was required to stay meekly in the background and hold her peace. True, there were some daring spirits who occasionally broke all bounds and spoke their minds, but we know from Napoleon's attitude toward Mme. de Stael how such women were treated.

Can you imagine a modern girl bursting into a roomful of these ultra-gentle ladies? To make things as bad as possible, fancy her in a golf costume with her hair blown about by the wind and her cheeks tanned and perhaps a little dusty. How the mouths of our ancestors would have pursed up in disapproval at the sight of her mannish vest and her high collar and ascot tie. And if, thrusting her hands in her pockets and crossing her knees in a characteristic boyish attitude, she had regaled them with up to date conversation, don't you suppose that before she had been in the room five minutes the entire assemblage would have had a fit of the vapors, or fainted, or indulged in some other nervous performance fashionable at the time?

And would you blame them when you consider what the status of woman was in their time? Let me quote from the records of the National American Woman's association:

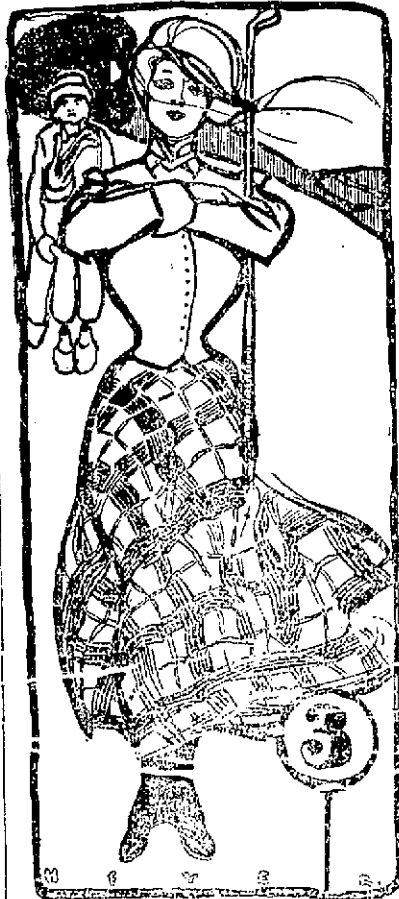

"In 1800 married women were not permitted in any country to control their property nor to will it away at death. To all intents and purposes they did not own it. The legal existence of the wife was so merged in that of her husband that she was said to be 'dead in law.' Not only did he control her property, collect and use her wages, select the food and clothing for herself and children, but to a very large extent he controlled her freedom of thought, speech and action. If she disagreed with him or in any way offended him he possessed the legal right, upheld by public opinion, to punish her, the courts only interfering when the chastisement exceeded the popular idea in severity. At this time it was held by courts in

What She Has Gained
In the Nineteenth Century and
What She Expects to Gain In the Twentieth

him whom she incited to sin, that he may not fall a second time through female levity."

"It was upon such conditions that the curtain of the nineteenth century rose, the century which the prophetic voice of Victor Hugo proclaimed to be the 'century of woman.'"

We all know what she has gained. She works side by side with men, and her work is taken seriously. She receives the same education as her brother. She exerts in nearly every branch of labor open to men. Marriage is not the only future open to her, but when she does marry it is no longer a slavery, but a partnership on equal terms. She refuses to be kept in ignorance of the world, and she faces it with clear eyes and keen judgment. She is healthy and athletic, as full of life and spirits as a boy, and above all there are no limits to her ambition.

Here are a few things, for instance, which she expects to gain by the end of the twentieth century:

She is going to vote.
She is going to insist that she shall be paid the same wages as men for an equal amount of work.

She will have the same privileges as a man after her day's labor.

She will be able to go alone to the theater and restaurant without the painful necessity of dragging a man with her. When this is brought about, men will find themselves much less sought after.

When the nerves of her employer become a trifle on edge and he lights a cigarette to soothe them, she may give herself the same comfort if she chooses. The fact that she ought not to smoke because she is a woman will seem a humorous rather than a logical point of view.

When she marries a man and she is the larger wage earner, she will be the head of the house.

Her clothes will be comfortable as well as artistic.

She will hold any or every office where political integrity is demanded.

In fact should matters become too bad she wouldn't mind becoming president of the United States.

SLANDERING STATESMEN.

One of the weaknesses of American people is their disposition to slander public men, especially men who are prominent in political life. There seems to be something about the practice that is contagious, and as a result men of this character are maligned by many people who have no acquaintance with them, and who wouldn't know them if they met them face to face. As evidence of this fact there is just now being renewed in the state of Pennsylvania the old fight against Mathew S. Quay, in an effort to keep him out of the United States senate. Sympathy with the fight against Mr. Quay extends to all parts of the country, and many people denounce him, not from any knowledge they possess of his character, but simply because it seems to be the popular thing to do, forgetting the fact that the great state of Pennsylvania has recognized Mr. Quay's ability for many years, and that the fight made against him at home is largely the result of jealousy, led by Mr. Wannamaker, who, while a great merchant and Sunday school worker, has never been considered a great statesman.

What is true of Mr. Quay is equally true of Marcus M. Hanna, a man who has been ridiculed and slandered more during the past year, than any man in the country. Not by people who know him well, but by people who never met him and have no knowledge of him, except what they have gathered from some slanderous newspaper report. Mr. Hanna is one of the brightest statesmen that the country has ever produced. A man who possesses absolute honesty, clean, in morals and character, liberal to a fault to the vast army of men that he employs, an intelligent, energetic American citizen, successful in everything he undertakes, yet maligned on every hand because he is a great leader.

John R. Tanner, the retiring governor of Illinois, is another victim of this class, and largely so because the Chicago Tribune and Times-Herald, both claiming to be republican organs, could not control him. The lies that they have told about him during the four years of his administration would fill a book, and yet the fact remains that Governor Tanner was the best business executive that the state ever had. When he succeeded Altgeld he found a treasury depleted to the extent of $1,700,000. He leaves the office with the state out of debt, and a large cash balance for his successor. His administration has been clean and wholesome, and not a whisper of slander has ever been breathed against it, yet he has been slandered because he is successful.

It is easy to say that congress is corrupt, that state legislatures are out for spoils, that public men are thieves, but it is the cheapest kind of criticism, and ought to be beneath the dignity of a great republic. The men in this country who are honored with office and positions of public trust are usually honest men. They possess not only honesty, but ability. As a rule they are popular, and that means several desirable traits of character. It means a large and generous nature, a warm and sympathetic heart. It means tact in dealing with people, and usually well developed common sense. The men who succeed in public life are to a greater or less extent leaders of thought and public opinion. They may not all be great men, but they are comparatively great. Their tenure of office depends largely upon themselves, and they have every incentive to honesty and faithfulness. They are entitled, as a class, to better treatment than they receive.

RESTLESSNESS AND FADS.

The spirit of restlessness, that has developed rapidly during the past ten years, was never more pronounced in this country than at the opening of the new century. As a nation we seem to be going wild on fads of almost every description. One amusement after another is adopted and thrown aside before it is fairly tested. A few years ago base ball was the national game. Today it is practically discarded. Bicycling followed as a craze, and last year millions of dollars were sunk in the manufacture of machines that could hardly be sold for the cost of the material in them. Just now it is golf and football. One too expensive and the other too dangerous to hold the bards for any protracted period. What the next amusement fad will be remains for some enterprising yankee to develop, and he is usually equal to the occasion.

What is true of games is equally true of religious and theological fads. The city of Boston, the old Puritan hub, is now the hotbed of Unitarianism and all sorts of peculiar dogmas. Almost every protestant church in the city prides itself on its liberality of faith and doctrine. The west always likes to lead, and so she is giving Boston several points along the line of religious fads. The latest is the city of Zion just out of Chicago, dedicated to Dowie, and his fanatical creed, and a great many intelligent people with wheels in their heads, are joining the Dowie ranks. Faith cure, Christian science, and other fads of this class, are likely to be eclipsed by the Zion movement.

Four years ago the country went crazy wild over the free silver fad and almost half the voting population expressed a belief that a fifty cent dollar was honest.

This spirit of restlessness suggests an element of danger, and prompts the question in the minds of many thoughtful people: Is the nation drifting away from the old landmarks toward a point where self government is endangered? The fanatic, be he religious or political, is an unsafe leader. France has been cursed with this kind of sentiment, ever since she became a republic, and it has always been, and is today, an open question as to whether the nation will long continue under its present form of government. Her weakness is, of course, socialism, but every fad of a political or religious character partakes of the same nature. A man or woman who can swallow some of the fads that are so popular in this country today, would reach the border land of socialism, and develop into full edged citizenship, without perspiring to get there.

What the country needs today more than any one thing is stability. There are some things that should be regarded as sacred, and one of them is the faith of the fathers. It may be a little irksome, but it is always reliable. It ought not to be possible in this intelligent age for faith cure, Christian science, Dowieism, and fads of this class to gain a foothold, and the fact that they do, is not a flattering comment.

Another thing that should be held sacred is national honor and honesty. Fanatical heresy, along this line, if it ever wins, means nothing less than national ruin.

Wisdom will prompt the nation as well as the individual to check and control the spirit of restlessness, so far as may be, in the interest of the best good.

Nebraska cannot afford to take any half way measures in the kidnapping case. The boldness of the criminals and their inhuman method place them wholly without the pale of mercy.

According to the "World's Work" for January, the canals of Mars will not be in it when compared to the canals to be built on this old world during the twentieth century.

What is the most spectacular thing a governor can do at the fag end of his term? He cannot legislate by himself, but he can pardon a lot of murderers and swindlers.

Rear Admiral Schley is to retire this year, a fact to be deplored, as officers of his ability and nerve are not found every year in this or any other country.

It is evident that there is a new awakening in the south. Its growth has been phenomenal, and what is better, they are watching this development with superlative interest.

ZIMMERMAN IS ON THE WAY TO WAUPUN

Monroe Embezzler Was Given Three Years in the State's Prison by Judge Orton.

Sheriff Gardner of Green county was in the city this morning on his way to Waupun with George Zimmerman, the embezzler, who was yesterday given three years in the state prison by Judge Orton. Zimmerman was captured after a long chase by the chief of police of Huntington, W. Va. who received a reward of $1,000 for his capture. Sheriff Gardner went to Huntington and brought him back. When brought up for trial he pleaded guilty and was given three years.

Zimmerman was a man in good standing in Monroe and has a wife and three children. He had charge of an estate and securing $5,000 of the funds of the estate skipped out and succeeded in spending all but $135 before he was caught. The people of Huntington say that he posed as a very rich man and made all sorts of handsome presents to a number of the women of the town, one of them getting a pair of fine horses and a carriage. He was always a quiet unassuming man around home and his friends are at a loss to account for his actions.

The Wisconsin Telephone company have a force of men engaged today in hanging a large cable for the central office to the corner of Franklin street. It is expected that the improvements being made in the city will keep this force employed until May 1.

G. H. DELAVAN WAS HELD FOR TRIAL

IN DEFAULT OF $1,000 HE WAS REMAINED TO JAIL.

Edward M. Smith Tells How the "Doctor" Drugged and Robbed Him
at the Grand Hotel—The Bogus
Physician is Identified by One of the Hotel Employees

G. H. Delavan was held for trial in the municipal court this morning. The examination was held at 9 o'clock and Judge Fifield held him for trial on Jan. 21 at 9 o'clock. In default of $1,000 bail Delavan was remanded to jail.

District Attorney Jackson conducted the examination. Edward M. Smith of Owatonna, Minn., the complaining witness was first sworn. He said he became acquainted with Delavan who claimed to be a doctor at the Grand Hotel.

He was not feeling well and Delavan said that he could fix him all right. Delavan claimed he had a couple of calls to make and would be back about half past nine and told him in the meantime to take a hot bath and go to bed, which he did.

Delavan returned about 9:30 and examined him; testing his lungs and doing as any doctor would, he then gave him an alcohol bath and said that a little stimulant would do him good. Delavan then sent down to the bar-room and had two glasses of blackberry brandy sent up. He drank one glass and then Delavan gave him about a third of the other glass.

He noticed when he drank it that it tasted very hot and burned him some. He asked Delavan what was in it and was told that it was nothing but a stimulant to warm him up. He soon fell asleep and that was the last that he knew until he was aroused the next morning and found his money, watch and chain gone.

Delavan had been gone since twelve o'clock the night before and that was the last that he heard of him until he was notified that he had been arrested in Saint Paul.

George Stott, night clerk at the Grand Hotel identified Delavan as the man who registered under the name at the hotel and claimed to be a doctor and as the man that was with Smith on the night that he was drugged.

Judge Fifield considered the evidence sufficient and held Delavan on the charge of larceny.

REMINISCENCES OF BISHOP NINDE

Was a Fellow Student of A. A. Jackson of Janesville, and Willard Merrill of Milwaukee.

While the death yesterday of Bishop William Xavier Ninde of Detroit one of the foremost men in the Methodist church in this part of the country is a matter of general sorrow it has local significance from the fact that he was a connection by marriage and a school mate of a prominent attorney of this city, A. A. Jackson.

Way back in Rome, N. Y., half a century ago, William N. Ninde was a student at Rome academy preparing for college. A. A. Jackson was also enrolled at this educational institution at this time, and Willard Merrill, formerly of this city, now with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee. Another well remembered student was Dr. Goodwin of Chicago. Later Lyman J. Gage matriculated at the Rome academy.

During a part of Mr. Jackson's student life at Rome he made his home with William Ninde's mother and came to know the whole family in the intimate acquaintance of the family circle.

The late bishop came of a family of preachers. His father, Rev. W. W. Ninde, was a prominent figure in the Methodist church of his day with an unusual gift of persuasive speech. This the son inherited and as a boy at school was remarkable for his eloquence. In addition he had an unusually sweet disposition, and altogether was one of the most lovable young men as well as one of the most promising pupils in the academy list of membership.

Later a brother of the late bishop married a cousin of Mr. Jackson, so that the strong personal affection existing between the two men was cemented by matrimonial family ties. As time passed on their paths widely diverged but Mr. Jackson feels his death as if it were one of his own kin.

ROCK COUNTY PROHIBS

The Annual Conference Will Be Held in Good Templars Hall on Monday Next.

The annual conference of the prohibitionists of Rock county will be held on Monday next at Good Templars' hall in the Court Street Methodist church block. The leaders of the conference will be Professor F. W. Lough and Quincy Lee Morrow of Indianapolis. These gentlemen are holding a series of conferences and are engaged to put in a month in Rock county. The first meeting will be held in this city on Monday next and the others will be held at different points throughout the county.

These rallies in the cause of prohibition do a great deal of good and while a great number of people may not be in favor of prohibition still great good is done in the cause of temperance.

The addresses of Quincy Lee Morrow are of the first order and he is quoted as being second to none save John G. Woolley if indeed he is second to him. Prof. Lough's prohibition songs are very fine and it well worth the while of any one to listen to them.

The program for the day is as follows:

1:30 p. m.—Song.....Prof. F. W. Lough
Invocation.....
1:40 p. m.—"What Can Women Do to Help the Prohibition Party?"
.....By a Member of the W. C. T. U.
2 p. m.—"The Duty of the Preacher?"
.....By a Prohibition Minister
2:10 p. m.—Discussion.....Prof. F. M. Lough

REPORT SOON TO BE PUBLISHED

Attorney A. A. Jackson, Chairman of Publication Committee of State
Bar Association.

The report of the last meeting of the state bar association is now in process of publication and will be issued early next month. It will contain in as nearly complete form as possible the memoirs of the 200 or more deceased members of the state bar, enriched by half-tone plates as far as they can be secured. Already over forty such plates have been furnished. Of the Janesville attorneys represented are the late J. C. Sloan, M. S. Prichard, W. W. Tallman and C. G. Williams. A cut of the late Judge John R. Bennett is expected later.

Attorney A. A. Jackson is chairman of the committee on publication and he is the one moving actively in the matter of the plates. Strange as it may appear the families of the lawyers prominent in the state twenty-five or thirty years ago are now so widely scattered that they cannot be communicated with and in many other cases there is no reliable photograph extant from which a cut could be made.

MRS. MARY M. LOWELL IS DEAD

Passed Away Peacefully Early This Morning at the Age of 81 Years.

Mary Merchant Lowell, mother of Eugene W. Lowell, passed away peacefully this morning at 3 o'clock at her home, 160 North High street, at the advanced age of eighty-one years. Her husband Austin W. Lowell having died Jan. 14, 1899. She leaves surviving her two sons, Eugene W. Lowell of this city and Wallace A. Lowell of Chicago. She was born at Wasan, Wyoming county, New York, February 20, 1820, and was married to Austin W. Lowell on March 3, 1842 at Wasan.

They resided there a number of years and came west to Stevens Point, Wis., in 1859, and in 1860 came to this city where they have resided since that time. Mrs. Lowell was a woman whose many qualities had made her beloved by all. She was a conscientious member of the Methodist church and at the time of her death was a member of the Court street M. E. church of this city. Her taking away will be mourned by a large number of relatives and close friends.

The funeral services will be held from her home 160 North High street on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A Pleasant Surprise.
Miss Inez Wilbur, one of the employees of J. M. Bostwick & Sons, was most pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of her friends. Miss Wilbur has resigned her position and will leave in February for California. The evening was spent in games, cards, music and dancing and was enjoyed by all. At midnight refreshments were served and enjoyed by all. Miss Wilbur has the best wishes of all present for a happy and successful life in her new home.

Y. M. C. A. Classes Tonight.
The beginners' class in music at the Y. M. C. A. building opens at 7 o'clock this evening under Prof. W. F. Gaskins who will teach sight singing and note reading. At eight o'clock the first session of the season in mechanical drawing will be held under the direction of E. M. Heylman of the Janesville Machine company. The penmanship class will be held at 8:15.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING BEING VENTILATED

The ventilating system at the Y. M. C. A. building is being entirely changed. For a long time it has been noticed by the patrons of the building that the ventilation was faulty and some plan to relieve the trouble has long been sought after. The directors think they have at last hit upon a plan which will relieve them of all trouble. At the last meeting appointed to look into the matter and secured the services of Sutton Morris of the city who advised the use of the indirect system. Under this system the pure air is brought in from the outside and distributed throughout the building. The impure air is expelled by steam pressure through two large pipes and pressure enough is secured in this way to carry a paper or any light substance through the pipes. By this plan the building is continuously supplied with pure air and the impure air forced out.

SOAP NEVER SO CHEAP.

Local Dealers Reduce Prices on Laundry and Toilet Soaps.

There is no need of any family in Janesville being without soap these days. A West Side druggist for tomorrow advertises famous 12½-cent toilet soaps for five cents. An East Side grocer is offering twelve bars of well known laundry soap for 25 cents. At these prices every family can afford to lay in a stock.

Funeral of Mrs. Janette Brown.
A brief service of prayer and song was performed over the remains of Mrs. Janette Brown at 10 o'clock this morning at her late home, 59 Terrace street. The complete funeral services were conducted at 12 o'clock at the Grove Congregational church at Center with preaching by the Rev. W. A. Hall of the Court Street M. E. church. The interment was at Center.

Episcopal Church.

Edward M. Kay and Harriet M. Caldwell, both of this city, were married last evening at Trinity church. Rev. J. A. M. Richey officiated following the full ring service of the Anglican church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Beatrice Caldwell and the bridegroom by Henry J. Casey. The wedding march was played by Margaret Luby, who was accompanied by William McCue on the violin. A number of witnesses were present.

After the church ceremony the wedding party returned to the bride's home, 15 Forest Park boulevard, where congratulations and good wishes were extended by the friends and relatives present and where a wedding supper was served. At 9:30 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Kay took the C. & N. W. train for the north where they will spend a week and on their return will make their home at 213 S. Main street.

The young people start out in the matrimonial life under the most favorable auspices and with the sincere good will of the community in which they are known. Mr. Kay has been for years employed as pharmacist in the New York drug store and is worthy of all confidence and esteem. The bride has been for an extended period a teacher in the Grant school which is of itself a high tribute to her mental and moral attainments. Socially they are favorites and deserving of fortunes kindest smiles.

CHARLES HUGHES PLEADS GUILTY

Admits Robbing Two Young Men on a Northwestern Train Near Lodi Last October.

Charles Hughes one of the three men who robbed, beat and threw from a Northwestern train near Lodi last October two young men by the name of Rose and Hickox, pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Strand of Portage yesterday and was sentenced to one year at Waupun.

Hughes and his pal Paige and an unknown man were captured the day after the robbery at Evansville by Marshall Broughton. They made their escape from the lock-up shortly after their arrest and the unknown man, succeeded in getting away. Hughes and Paige being re-captured by Broughton. They were turned over to under Sheriff Hearst of Portage by Broughton and Paige succeeded in giving Hearst the slip at Madison and getting away. Hughes was finally landed in Portage by Hearst and yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge Paige is believed to be one of the Montfort bank robbers recently captured.

A marriage license has been issued by County Clerk Starr to Gustave C. Hegge and Edgerton and Flora Olsen both of Edgerton.

Two Killed by an Explosion.
Wateksa, Ill., Jan. 4.—Bishop's one of the important landmarks Wateksa, controlled by Richard Spohrle, under the name of the Food Milling company, was wrecked by an exploding boiler. John Spohrle, partner, and Lute Mallett, the engineer, were instantly killed, and Jones, miller, is slightly injured. The boiler was thrown 200 feet, struck the wall of Gard's hardware store, literally tearing the building in two. Scarcely a whole window remained the block adjacent. Both of the men leave families.

SUBSIDY BILL SET BACK.

Sidetracked in the Senate--May Not Again Come Up.

ARMY BILL IS CONSIDERED.

It Will Now Take Precedence Over the Other Bills—May Pass Before Saturday Adjournment—Scandal at Nava Academy—Oleomargarine.

Washington, O. C., Jan. 4. —The ship subsidy bill was neatly sidetracked in the senate. It enjoyed a position as unfinished business which gave it the right of way each day after 2 o'clock, but was swiftly displaced and sent to the bottom of the calendar, where it may not be reached again this session, with no one present to offer objection. The pressing emergency which in the judgment of the president and his friends requires the immediate passage of the army-reorganization bill caused that measure to be taken up when the senate met at noon, and its consideration was continued until 2 o'clock, when unanimous consent was asked by Senator Hawley (Conn.) chairman of the military affairs committee, that the subsidy bill be temporarily displaced and the army bill be proceeded with.

Republicans hope to pass the army reorganization bill before the week out. Its opponents, and among the such determined fighters as Mr. Petrew, say that it will be debated 10 days before a suggestion for a vote will be entertained.

Scandal at the Naval Academy.
A scandal at the Annapolis Naval Academy is promised. Representative Rixey (Va.) lodged charges at the navy department of brutality and neglect of duties against the officers of that establishment, alleging that Cadet Robert Green of Stafford county, Virginia, had been inhumanly treated; that his death had followed exposure to hardships, and that his body had not been given proper burial. Representative Rixey expects the navy department to make a thorough investigation of his charges, and says that unless satisfaction is taken he will present a resolution for a congressional inquiry.

Interest in the O'connor-Margine Bill. Illinoisans were conspicuous in hearing before the agricultural committee of the senate on the Groat margarine bill, and the excitement so intense at times as to threaten personal collisions between representatives of the various interests. Representative Springer of Illinois, one-half of the National Live Stock Association, appeared in opposition to the bill.

The friends of the bill start movement to close the hearings, action may be had upon it in the late at this session.

Promotion of Colonel Williams

Oscar F. Williams of New York was nominated as consul-general in Singapore, was consul at Manila before the Spanish war. On the outbreak of hostilities he left that post, but returned after the Paris peace treaty was signed. It was stated at the house this afternoon that charges had been filed against him, but that they were not considered of sufficient importance to prevent his promotion.

THINK OF YOUR STOMACH

If people would think more of their stomachs there would be less sickness and suffering in the world. Through sheer ignorance and thoughtlessness, men and women overcrowd their stomachs and injure them with unwholesome food, thus imposing on them work which nature never intended them to do. In this manner the vast majority of people sooner or later become afflicted with some kind of stomach trouble, for it has many forms, including malaria, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, inflammation of the stomach, etc. Liver and bowel complaints are also often due to nothing but deranged action of the stomach. It is because people eat food of unwholesome quantity or quality that their stomachs become disordered and fail to perform their duty of digesting and assimilating the food. For relieving and curing every form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and for helping and strengthening these organs to perform their functions perfectly, nothing is equal to
